

Season 2 Episode 9

My pivot journey into acting and making short films

Susie Sparkes embarked on her pivot from Primary Teacher to Actor and short film maker after realising that she had a natural talent for story telling. After taking on acting classes for the joy at a time when she was caring for her parents, she realised her passion and today.... well see for yourself the links on Susie's tips sheets include some of her award winning short films.

Top Tips

Simple Steps to Action

Have a supportive person to encourage you, even if they think what you are doing is nuts, you know they genuinely have your back.

Explain how important this endeavor is to you and ask if they would be your support person.

Approach it with a 'can do' attitude. You seriously won't know if you don't have a red hot go.

Use the Catastrophe Scale – puts things in great perspective. What's the worst that could happen?

Life is too short to keep wondering 'what if?'
